

December 4th 2005

Another great day in Auckland. With Summer officially mentioned. Just a small turnout for the game but this is still very much part of what pesapallo is all about. here we are blessed with very hard playing field and it does not bother us one wee bit. Seethose that are att he great weather already he games are having just

So again two captains were appointed. Ian and Ryan. S had been to one pesapallo game before was back. It was a great reason to be at the game. You know ever since we improvement in skills by players. Yessome work very hard at gaining this improvement and some it is just a matter of wiping away the cobwebs and refreshing the game. election of teams again went ahead and Gavin was again in umpire. Katie who another started playing pesapallo here in Auckland there has been a steady again. Both teams

Telle arrived and quickly got onto a team and did her part again. If we had teams filled with players with the dedication that Telle has we would be the best pesapallo country anywhere. If we want inspiration to do anything at all then a team moment to reflect on Telle she is an amazing woman and to Frans, my very good friend, and all that are playing pesapallo just want to see you standing on the sidelines again very soon. So rest well and we hope your recovery is good and long lasting. Kaisu had to leave early. That entered Gavin into the game. Kaisu had brought along Martti who was visiting from Finland. He was soon into the game but had had a brought to leave with Kaisu.

Sharron was again back playing. Sharron is a member of Maristo softball stop women team. Her skills are good goals for players who want to be good at playing pesapallo. I bet Sharron has been playing softball for a long time and that has worked hard in gaining the level of ball play she has. It does not come easy to most of us and that is why playing is one way to be the very best we can be.

Katie lost her ring. Just a weering that was a attach ed to her weep in a finger. Ptrecew was again at the game heard about the loss. Oh dear said Katie guess it will be found later. So the game continued. Katie was up to bat. Just as the server was about to serve Ptrecew was fielding at base one asked Katie if she had found her ring. Katie turned to Ptrecew as the ball was lofted in that was heard after that was the call "Strike one" as the ball fell to the serving disc. Very funny mom to the air and said "What" all theretoknowjusthowfunny. Ryan told me later that his team won. So I guess that is how it all ended. ent and may be you had to be

But it was a good day.

We need more players to beat these games. Just makes for a better game So until next Sunday Dec 11th 2005 take care and get ready to be at the game
